

Government Isn't Appreciated Until It's Gone

Foreign exchange doesn't mean anything specific to the average American—as specific, say, as how much, if anything, you are going to get paid on any day.

But it would have been specific and real if you had been sitting where I sat Sunday.

The scene was the Arlington hotel, Hot Springs, the occasion was the annual meeting of Arkansas members of the Associated Press, and the speaker was Frank J. Starzelle of New York, assistant general manager of the Associated Press.

The AP has wires running all over the world; bureau staffs in nearly every country; and correspondents, technicians and managers constantly on the go from one nation to another. What Mr. Starzelle was telling us Sunday was the story of the tremendous difficulty in collecting one kind of money in one country and trying to use it in another country—in a business which, like the gathering of world-wide news, absolutely requires free use of foreign exchange.

His story dealt specifically with the Low Countries, France, Germany and Sweden—and, on the other side of the world, with the fantastic financial story of Shanghai, where it takes a bale of Chinese currency to be recognizable as American money.

Mr. Starzelle said independent news-reporting gets scant encouragement on the European continent, with its tradition of government-subsidized news bureaus; but nevertheless the native newspapers of the Western Zone of Germany voted for and got the American service rather than news from an officially-controlled source.

But the difficulty of translating the money of one country into the currency of another, bankruptcy remains even today, three years after the end of the war. He told the story of Shanghai's Municipal Index, made necessary because of the great fluctuation in the value of the dollar, and the value of the Chinese dollar, and native wages were governed by it. It was weak stuff, to lean on, but it worked—until the Japanese started monkeying with the index.

Listening to these stories of woe from abroad I thought:

Americans do not appreciate the power and wonder of their own good fortune. They do not really understand their good luck in having a country of tremendous resources, and, above all, a stable government with a currency that means something.

Mr. Starzelle talked about the high cost of living. We live in daily fear of runaway inflation. But as long as we are aware of the danger, as long as we demand that rising costs be fought with determination and common sense, the dreaded collapse will not come about.

But even so, we still don't appreciate the worth of what we have—a government able to maintain law and order, and a financial system, public and private, strong enough to make monetary exchange with some degree of satisfaction all the people—a solitary island of security in a lonesome sea of world poverty, fear and unrest.

Everybody Wins a Brass Ring On Ohio Merry-Go-Round

By JAMES THRASHER

The Republican Big Four Male Quartet will now favor us with one harmonious chorus of "Blue Skies." For they never saw things looking so right. The Battle of Ohio, and the result is a smashing victory for all of them.

Take Senator Taft. He looked pretty bad in spring training before the Ohio primary, the vote in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania showed that he was neither the pin-up nor write-in boy of the Republicans.

But back on his home grounds the senator looked good. More than four-fifths of Ohio's GOP voters finally lined up with the local entry, even though Harold Stassen put up some rugged opposition and was helped out, Mr. Taft charges, by New Dealers who crossed the party line.

The result, said Mr. Taft, showed "more delegates prepared to support me on the first ballot than any other candidate." This may sound odd, since the delegate books to date show Mr. Taft running fifth behind Messrs. Dewey, Martin of Pennsylvania, Stassen, and Green of Illinois. So the senator must be counting on the secret pledges of Republican organizations in states that haven't yet voted.

But is Mr. Stassen heartened? No, Mr. Stassen said that his showing in the Ohio primary was "one of the most significant developments of the entire national campaign."

He assumed that this development was not significant because it proved Mr. Stassen wrong in claiming he would get a majority of the 23 contested delegates. Nor could it be significant because Mr. Stassen said it wouldn't be clear victory unless his one candidate for delegate-at-large ran right up there with the nine Taft men. (He ran tenth.)

Arabs Debate Appeal to Halt Shooting War

By MAX BOYD

Cairo, Egypt, May 24 — (AP) — Arab leaders debated today whether to end the Palestine war. The Jews said they will stop shooting today, if the Arabs do the same.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ahmed Khashaba Pasha said yesterday his government "will do our best to reply to the security council's appeal to halt the shooting, but it is not possible to do so until the U.N. deadline was set for 11 a. m. CST, today."

U. S. AND BRITAIN APPEAL TO EGYPT

Cairo, May 24 — (AP) — The U. S. and British governments appealed to Egypt today to abide by the United Nations cease fire in Palestine at 11 a. m. CST, reliable sources said.

S. Pinkney Tuck and Sir Ronald Campbell, ambassadors of the two western powers, were reported to have delivered the appeals to Egyptian Foreign Minister Ahmed Khashaba Pasha. Part of the Egyptian Army is in Palestine.

The Egyptian cabinet met yesterday and discussed the appeal without reaching a decision. Other Arab governments have not announced their intentions.

Harold Evans, Philadelphia, the U.N.'s newly appointed commissioner for Jerusalem, reached Cairo by plane today.

After a brief rest, Evans is expected to try to get in touch with Jewish and Arab leaders.

Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, told newsmen in Amman, Trans-Jordan, earlier yesterday that he would not object to a truce in Jerusalem if disagreement is applied to both sides.

The Israeli government made its cease fire offer in Tel Aviv yesterday as Arabs in Cairo claimed an Egyptian ultimatum had driven to join Arab Legionnaires attempting to smash Jewish resistance in the city.

The Cairo announcement did not specify that the Egyptian troops involved in the reported drive into Jerusalem.

A Jerusalem dispatch said Jews and Arabs were fighting hand to hand in the Holy City, barely 300 yards from the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Withering Arab artillery fire pounded Jewish machine gun posts in Notre Dame hospice, in the shadow of the ancient church, and the Americans died yesterday of wounds suffered in the bullet-ridden city.

Thomas C. Wasson, 52-year-old U. S. consul general, died of bullet wounds received when a sniper shot him near the American consulate.

The State Department in Washington said Herbert M. Walker, U. S. Navy radioman, died last night of wounds suffered in Jerusalem. He was caught in Arab-Jewish cross fire behind the consulate.

In Ba'Albek, Lebanon, 69 young Jews, most of whom declared openly they wanted to fight for Israel, are fringing in the Holy internment camp. There are 41 Americans and three Canadians in the group.

They were interned after Lebanese authorities reminded them last Wednesday from the Egyptian vessel Marine Corp, bound for Haifa, Israel.

The State Department announced in Washington that Lebanon had accepted the U. S. demand for release of the 41 American citizens.

At Beirut, the U. S. minister to Lebanon said he will ask the Lebanese government today to permit the U. S. or "any other country except Palestine."

Bearded Boys Entertain Lions Club

A group of long-whiskered boys and a blackface team from Linden, Texas thoroughly entertained members of the Lions Club today at the regular noon meeting.

Prior to the session the group paraded through the downtown streets astride horses advertising the centennial observance of their city June 27 through 29.

During the luncheon the blackface team kept up continuous chatter telling of experiences enroute to the Texas city and cracked plenty of jokes that kept the crowd laughing.

Guests from the Linden Lions club included: J. S. Penny, Carl Wells, Paul Stone, Bud Cameron, Boyce Daniels, Martha Daniels, W. F. Hall, Bob Williams, Milton Canner, Otis Reynolds, D. H. Boone, Monk Allen, Mrs. Erna Boone, Robert Goodrich, Billy Picklen, H. W. Sheffield, Paul T. Hays, Jimmie Gilbert, Mrs. Laurence Gilbert, T. K. Hoague, Howard Trend, Jane Daniels, W. C. Daniels.

Battle Shaping Up Between War Veterans

By JIM THOMASSON

Little Rock, May 24 — (AP) — The 1948 campaign for Democratic nomination as governor of Arkansas was shaping up as a major battle for World War II veterans' ballots today.

Horace E. Thompson, himself a World War I veteran, made his bid with appointment of State Senator George W. Freeman, of Ozark, World War II veteran and Arkansas Veterans of Foreign Wars commander, on his campaign staff.

Four of Thompson's opponents in the race, Sidney S. McSwath, Jack Holt, James Merritt and Bob Ed Lottin, are veterans of World War I and Merritt and Lottin are former state VFW commanders.

Although most candidates do not plan formal campaign openings for another week or so, seven of the eight planned to continue campaign "electioneering" this week.

McSwath, just completing an extensive 10-day air tour of the state, will spend most of the week in his Little Rock campaign headquarters.

Holt, who said he will open campaign headquarters and name his campaign manager about June 1, spent the week-end in Fort Smith visits to Tuckerman, England and Malvern scheduled this week.

Pine Bluff was Thompson's week-end base, and he will go to Fort Smith, Conway and Wilson during the week. The former internal revenue collector expects to open his campaign June 8.

James "Uncle Mac" MacKrell, who has been campaigning nearly three months, will continue his nightly appearances with his quartette. His schedule for the week includes Mountain View, Prescott, Paragould, Osceola, and Star City.

As part of his campaign, "Uncle Mac" is publishing a monthly paper and conducting a contest for the best letter on "what the folks in your community need most."

Over the week-end, new campaign planks were discussed by Merritt, John G. Lonsdale, Jr., and Charles Fleming.

In speeches at Forrest City and Paragould, Merritt announced a 12-point program, and promised "patronage plum" would be distributed equitably.

Lonsdale, in a speech at Harrison, advocated state ownership of the wholesale liquor business, and Fleming, speaking to the University Student Political League, inserted an anti-Truman plank in his platform.

Attorney and Wife Plunge to Death

Chicago, May 24 — (AP) — An attorney and his wife plunged nine floors to death early today from their North Side hotel room.

They were Harry Grundy, 49, and Lourena, 48, of Taylorville, Ill.

The bodies struck the sidewalk in front of the Commonwealth hotel at 2757 Pine Grove avenue a foot apart after crashing through window pane and screen of their room's window. Grundy's body was clad in pajamas, that of his wife wrapped in a housecoat. Her shatter wrist watch stopped at 5:35 o'clock.

Lt. Albert Hoffman of the Sheffield avenue police station said a medical case report found in the Grundys' luggage indicated that the attorney had suffered from epilepsy and was subject to fits of depression. He said there was no sign of a struggle in the room.

The lieutenant said he believed Mrs. Grundy had been killed trying to prevent her husband from leaping through the window—that she was dragged through while trying to hold him back.

Dr. William Sadler, a Chicago psychiatrist, told police he had been treating Grundy for 15 years and that Mrs. Grundy had brought her husband here for hospitalization.

Dr. Sadler turned over to Lt. Hoffman a letter he said was sent to him last week by Mrs. Grundy which related that her husband was "getting worse" and had attempted to jump into a lake near Taylorville about ten days ago.

Apparently no one saw the Grundys plunge. The bodies were found by a woman who notified the hotel clerk.

About Time to Isolate the Gossip Bug and Develop a Truth Serum to Detect It

By HAL BOYLE

New York — (AP) — When are the lusty savants and the Bunsen burner boys going to isolate the gossip bug and develop a truth serum to detect it?

Gossip today wastes more energy than is locked up in the most muscular atom. It wrecks more homes than floods, tornadoes or a million over-activated Casanovas.

Gossiping is the vice dearest to the human heart. It is a vice no amount of bad but few people are completely free of.

Gossip thrives on chaos and its end product is more chaos in its pretty form it is a device to protect one's vanity and self-esteem. It is a means of isolating a better man or woman. In other cases it is merely an envious guess some body else is enjoying a forbidden pleasure the gossip would like to indulge in himself. In its most nefarious form it is a reflection of one's own inner feeling of doubt, terror or panic.

Gossip can be spread by an artful leader to create a war. The idle malice of the unfettered tongue is perhaps even now one of the greatest barriers to international good will.

In half a hundred countries it is a hidden force against peace, raising murky suspicions about the motives of American charity abroad. It is an unseen tremor that can destroy the morale of a home, an office, a nation or a world — if unchecked.

Gossips accusation without responsibility, trial without witness, persecution without reason.

It touches all subjects. The other day, for example, a taxi driver here told a friend of mine.

"See that skyscraper? It's going to fall down someday. They didn't anchor the foundation right."

The building happens to be one of the most modern in the world. No, the taxi driver admitted, he didn't know anything about engineering. But he still didn't feel the foundation had been put in right.

Gossip touches all people. No

Congress to Take Up U. S. Labor Laws

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, May 24 — (AP) — The nation's labor laws are up for three weeks of congressional scrutiny starting today.

The study by the Senate-House watch committee set up under the Taft-Hartley act may lead to some changes. But few if any are expected this year.

The one proposal regarded as having a chance for quick action was at the top of the discussion list as the group headed by Senator Ball (R-Minn) opens its first public hearings 11 months after enactment of the Taft-Hartley law.

That proposal would eliminate a requirement that a union shop can be set up only if a majority of employers vote for it. Under a union shop, employers can hire anyone they choose, but workers must join the union.

Senator Ball (R-Minn) and Rep. Landis (R-Ind), both members of the joint committee assigned to study the whole field of labor-management relations, are sponsors of the bill to abolish the union shop. They were slated to testify first.

Nearly all of the union shop votes have been carried overwhelmingly. The argument against them is that they unnecessarily burden the employer in conducting the elections, and are a waste of money.

Ball told a reporter there is a possibility that Congress will act this session to junk the balloting procedure. But the said there is

Must Bill to Work Congress Overtime

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, May 24 — (AP) — A black stack of "must" bills cast a dark shadow today over plans of Republican leaders to adjourn Congress June 18.

Senators probably will go on an extra hour shift this week and begin night sessions later in an effort to jam through a bundle of controversies.

But unless the lawmakers somehow can avoid the usual session-end squabbles, the best guess is that the vote on the labor bill to recess for the Republican and Democratic national conventions and then return to finish the job in Washington's hot and muggy summer weather.

Senators planned to resume debate today on the annual farm appropriation providing more than $1,000,000 for the Agriculture Department.

So far Congress has sent to Mr. Truman only for the more than a dozen appropriation bills which have to be passed before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

Perhaps the most controversial of the money bills will be the one making available actual funds for the European recovery program and other foreign aid projects. These now are being financed out of Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds. The program, which has not yet reached the House floor, where all money allotments must originate.

Favors Strong One-Team Candidate

By JACK BELL

Washington, May 24 — (AP) — Senator George (D-Ga) said today the voters ought to elect in November a strong one-term president who can set this country on the right course.

George, who has been mentioned as Georgia's favorite son candidate in the White House rights battle against President Truman's nomination, told a reporter he doesn't think Mr. Truman "is the answer to the country's prayer for leadership."

"We need a strong, one-term president who will forget politics and bring expenditures down to the point where we won't go bankrupt," the Georgia senator declared.

"Unless we change the trend we are in now," George said, "we are heading for expenditures that may reach 48 to 50 billion dollars in calendar year 1949. We are heading for a backsliding increased taxes and I don't think the country can stand it."

George said he hasn't decided yet who the one-term candidate should be. He added he is waiting to see what the voters want. Democrats nominate and what the party platforms are.

The Georgian indicated he may not go along with one proposed Southern move to put the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower before the Democratic convention.

Eisenhower was quoted in Chicago last week as saying he isn't going to give public support to either the Republican or Democratic nominee for president. Published reports said he declared he had no intention of opening his mouth about the various candidates.

This seemed to throw cold water on a back stage move by friends of some Republican and Democratic hopefuls to get the Columbia University president to take sides in favor of their man.

In this connection, the Taft camp was credited with spurring the latest move to get Gen. Douglas MacArthur home to testify before the Senate Appropriations Committee on Far Eastern conditions.

Arkansas Sailor Shot to Death in Palestine

New York, May 24 — (AP) — The former wife of Herbert M. Walker, U. S. Navy radioman who died last night of wounds suffered when he was caught in Arab-Jewish crossfire in Jerusalem, says she did not know he was in Palestine.

The navy said in Washington the couple was divorced.

Mrs. Dorothy Jean Walker, 25, mother of a 20-month-old son, said when she heard of Walker's death: "I can't believe it's true."

"I was astonished to hear he was in Palestine," she said.

Mrs. Walker said she and Walker, who would have been 27 next month, were born in Fountainberg, near Van Buren, Ark. He enlisted in the navy Dec. 4, 1943. They were married July 5, 1949.

Walker is survived by a brother, Lloyd, Dallas, Tex.; and four sisters including Mrs. Thomas Rush of Fountainberg and Mrs. Kermit Kiefer, Fort Smith, Ark.

Laney Hits 'Politicians' in Arkansas

Little Rock, May 24 — (AP) — Governor Laney today accused "moral eaten ex-politicians" of planning to block recognition of the Arkansas delegation to the National Democratic convention.

"Who's doing this thing? Who's behind it?" Laney said.

"If they'll stick their head out far enough you'll find out they are a bunch of moth-eaten ex-politicians ready to settle for a crumb."

(The Arkansas Democrat reported yesterday, without identifying the source of its information, that plans were being made to refuse seats to delegates outspoken in their criticism of President Truman. The newspaper said this was being done in cooperation with Washington officials.)

"They are just a bunch of political cowards," said Laney. "I'm just waiting for them to stick their heads up and I'm ready to expose them."

"If these folks are so devoted to the Democratic Party why don't they come out in the open about it? And these veiled threats about purging me from the party—that's one reason I'm in this fight, to stop things like that."

Laney made his prediction that if President Truman is nominated he will be defeated and "if that occurs it will take 16 to 20 years to get the party back together."

Laney is head of the States Rights Democratic organization which is opposing President Truman's nomination because of the president's civil rights proposals.

"Who is more likely to be party president? The one who will compromise because they might get a handout temporarily, or one who sees the breakers ahead and tries to avoid them?"

Fink Waives Hearing; Key Witness Missing

Albert S. Fink, ex-mayor of Hope who resigned his post Friday night, waived preliminary examination to charges of grand larceny and conversion of public property to private use in municipal court this morning and was bound over to the grand jury by Judge Kendall Lemley.

Prosecuting Attorney James H. Pilkinton told the court that a key witness for the state was missing and had been since Monday, May 17. He was identified as Billy Holdman, negro.

Mr. Pilkinton asked the court's permission to ask the defendant if he knew the whereabouts of the witness. Judge Lemley told Mr. Fink he did not have to answer but could if he wanted.

Mr. Fink replying to two questions said he did not know the whereabouts of the missing witness nor did he know of anyone who did.

Circuit court is scheduled to meet the first Monday in October. Bond remained at $500 on each count.

Fink was arrested on Saturday May 15. A preliminary hearing scheduled for May 17 was postponed. On Friday night, May 21, Mayor Fink called a special meeting of the Hope City Council and resigned.

2-Man Mayor's Race Indicated; Deadline Today

All signs pointed to a two-man race today for the office of mayor of Hope, made vacant last Friday with the resignation of Albert S. Fink.

City Attorney John P. Vesey already has announced his candidacy and Lyle Brown issued the following statement at 2:30 p.m. today:

"I am being urged to make the race. In all probability I will be a candidate."

Fink's deadline is today. The law, as interpreted by a local lawyer, says all candidates must file 15 days prior to the election. The ticket will be held open until midnight, a member of the election commission said about 2 p.m. today.

Candidates must pay a fee of $1 to city treasurer Charles Reynerson and submit a petition containing from 10 to 30 names to have their names placed on the ballot.

Although several have been mentioned John P. Vesey has definitely announced for the office. Talbot Field, Jr. will not run as rumored. Other possibilities mentioned downtown included Joe Jones and Kenneth Hamilton.

According to the law if the unexpired term is 6 months or more an election must be held. The court said an election for Tuesday would be required.

Voting precincts will be: Ward 1, Fire Station; Ward 2, courthouse; Wards 3 and 4, City Hall.

Talbot Field, Jr. made the following statement:

"Many citizens have personally urged me to run for the office of Mayor in the Special Election to be held on June 6th. However, there is a prohibition against a State Representative being elected to any Civil Office during the term in which he is elected."

The Constitution of our State, adopted in Convention, September 7, 1874, provides in Article V, Section 10:

"No Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he shall be elected, be ineligible for appointment or election to any Civil Office under this State."

Two recent cases requiring interpretation of the above Constitutional provision have been before the Supreme Court of Arkansas. In the first case, Wood v. Miller, 154 Ark. 318, which arose over the election in Pine Bluff of a Municipal Judge who was a member of the Legislature, the Court held that the Municipal Office was created by the Statutes of the State and are therefore Civil Offices under this State."

In the second case, Collins v. McCann, 177 Ark. 44, arising out of the town of Gould, Arkansas, an election contest developed after the winning candidate, who was a member of the Legislature, received the highest vote. The Court recognized the office of Mayor as being a Civil Office and remanded the case on another contention.

I am deeply grateful to everyone for the confidence they have expressed in me."

Ashdown Man Must Serve Sentence

Little Rock, May 24 — (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today ruled that E. C. Bratton must serve the one-year prison sentence imposed by the Little River Circuit Court on Bratton, who was charged on a charge of embezzlement.

Bratton was manager of the Temple Cotton Oil Company's mill at Ashdown. An audit disclosed total shortages of $7,000 from April, 1942 to February 1947.

In asking the supreme court to affirm the one-year sentence, the grand jury had been improperly admitted at his trial.

The high court said, however, that it was shown that his counsel asked for an opportunity for him to appear before the grand jury and that the prosecuting attorney had advised him he did not have to testify since he probably would be indicted.

The grand jury court reporter's testimony was to the effect that Bratton said he wanted to make a statement and then admitted to the grand jury that he had made all monthly reports to the company and had taken more than $1,000 from company funds.

In affirming the trial court, the supreme court said it was undisputed that Bratton's statement to the grand jury was made voluntarily, and its admission was not barred by the constitutional provision protecting any person from being compelled to testify against himself in a criminal case.

A Crawford Circuit court judgment against the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company for a total crossing accident in June, 1946, was affirmed, but one awarded was reduced.

The lower court gave James T. Perryman $5,025 for the death of his son, Tommy Perryman, 14. The court reduced the $5,000 judgment to $2,500.

Judgments of $10,000 to Vaile Ray Aldridge for injuries suffered, $1,000 to his father, J. Aldridge, for loss of services of the minor, $100 to H. H. Foster, for injuries suffered and $400 to his mother, Mrs. Nancy Foster, for loss of services of the minor, were affirmed.

China's Leading Scientist Named Premier

Nanking, May 24 — (AP) — Slight, 59-year old Wong Wen-Hao, rated China's leading scientist, was chosen today as premier. Premier Chiang Kai-Shek's surprise choice.

The action carried the generalissimo over the most serious internal challenge to his leadership in two decades. But it is not likely to end the struggle for power building up within the government.

The new legislature, whose members forced Chiang to abandon office to retain Premier Chiang Chun, gave Wong reluctant but obedient confirmation. The vote was 489 to 94. The legislature defeated a motion to require Wong to explain his policies to it.

Without a political machine or power of his own, Wong—who weighs less than 100 pounds—must depend on strong support by Chiang to enforce his program. He is expected to form his cabinet within two days.

U. S. Cancels Flights Over Palestine

Wiesbaden, May 24 — (AP) — The U. S. Navy has canceled all flights which might interfere with American planes in trouble over Palestine.

The Air Transport Command announced today that its weekly flight to Cairo, Saudi Arabia, taken off "due to unsettled conditions."

It was announced also that training flights of B-29 Superfortresses by Dharan, Frank, 44, arising out of the Cairo flight, were canceled. Bombers have made training flights frequently for the last six months.

Today's announcements followed yesterday's cancellation of a planned round-the-world flight of three B-29s, which had been scheduled to go to Okinawa by way of Dharan. They were turned back to the United States instead.

The British Royal Air Force plane flights over Arab territory were reported here that Egypt had warned the United States that American planes must not fly to Cairo, Egypt, from a state of war, but these could not be confirmed.

"All we can say is that we are now landing at Cairo, an air force officer said. The ATC recently by eliminating its stops at the Egyptian capital.

Transport command officers said they expected the weekly flight to Dharan might be resumed "sooner" after the situation is studied.

Air force planes ordinarily fly down from Germany to the Adriatic coast, skirt Greece, cross over Trans-Jordan and Palestine, and then go on across about 500 miles of Saudi Arabian desert to Dharan.

Memoirs Show Hull Expected War in 1935

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Washington, May 24 —(AP)—Correll Hull says in his memoirs that he was convinced by 1935 that the long-range policies of Germany and Japan pointed inevitably toward war, and that he began urging American rearmament on President Roosevelt at that time.

"We should let it be clearly seen," he said in one memorandum "that, while not wanting to fight and having no reason for attacking any other country, the people of this country are not only not too proud to fight, but given certain situations, would be too proud not to fight."

I also know that the diplomatic establishment of our government was no stronger than the military forces behind it. X X X

"When I came to the State Department," I thought for a time, when talking to Axis diplomats, that they were looking me in the eyes, but I soon discovered that they were looking over my shoulder at our armed forces and appraising their strength. Here, I came to feel, was the controlling factor in their acts and utterances toward us.

The former secretary of state's memoirs fill two large volumes, more than three quarters of a million words. It is the story of the rise of Tennessee country boy to one of the highest jobs in the United States, a general history of the country for his half a century in public life, and a detailed account of its diplomatic affairs during 12 of the most critical years through which it has ever passed.

Hull frequently pays tribute to the late president under whom he served as secretary, but also cites incident after incident of sharp disagreement.

Roosevelt, Hull says, personally inserted the famous line about "unanimous" aggressors into his 1937 Chicago speech which had been prepared by the State Department. The result, he says, set back the administration's campaign for international cooperation by at least six months.

Hull, now living out his declining years at the naval station near here, devotes much attention to his relations with other members of the Roosevelt presidential family. Although he admired the late Harry Hopkins several other New Dealers do not fare so well. Hull blames Raymond Moley, and Roosevelt less directly, for the failure of the London economic conference in 1933, and recalls how he told Moley before the final breakup: "You had better get back home. You had no business over here in the first place."

There is an entire chapter, plus many other references, devoted to Sumner Welles and the feud which developed because, Hull said, the under-secretary was constantly attempting to usurp policy-making authority or else trying to go over the secretary's head to the president.

Hull also accuses Henry Morgenthau of having tried to step over into the diplomatic field.

scarcely any chance for action on these other matters the hearings will cover.

1. Whether to clamp down against industry-wide bargaining in view of the recent coal strike and the narrowly averted railroad stoppage.

2. Whether to change the Railway Labor Act to try to prevent another crisis in that industry.

3. What to do about union welfare funds, now restricted but still troublesome enough in the coal industry to have touched off the latest walkout of miners.

4. How to speed up NLRB machinery for handling unfair labor practice cases and representation elections. The board has been swamped with cases and its enlargement from three to five members under the Taft-Hartley law.

5. Whether to outlaw strikes aimed at enforcing employers to agree to labor contracts which either violate the law or violate it.

Here are other measures listed as "musts" by a top-ranking senator who declined use of his name: Repeal of old taxes—the House has approved, and the Senate Finance Committee has completed hearings. Probable Senate amendments make the bill's fate uncertain.

Draft—Both Senate and House Armed Services Committees have approved peace-time selective service bills that would require two years' active duty for men 19 through 25 years. Senators are dropping a plan to train 161,000 18-year-olds in one year at a substitute for universal military training. The Senate may debate its bill late this week but the House Rules Committee is still holding hearings on when to let debate start on that side of the capital.

Displaced persons —The Senate will debate this week on a bill to admit 100,000 European war refugees during the next two years. Some senators want to double the number and liberalize terms.

Reciprocity —The House is scheduled to begin debate Wednesday on a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act. It contains restrictions imposed by the administration. Senate action is uncertain.

Atomic tenure —Senate leaders plan to push through a bill extending for 25 months the terms of Chairman David E. Lilienthal and four other members of the Atomic Energy Commission. President Truman has nominated the same men for staggered terms of one to five years beyond August 1.

Monroe-Nixon bill —The House has passed this measure requiring registration and reports by Communists and Communist-front groups. The Senate Judiciary Committee has not yet held hearings but GOP Senate leaders plan some action.

Long-range farm bill —Both Senate and House Agriculture Committees are pressing for passage of similar measures but the Senate group has not yet completed agreement on details which may be lost in other adjournment rush.

Government pay increases —Both Senate and House Civil Service Committees favor the idea but dis-

Stamps From Three Nations Honor 'Confusion Land'

Rival claims in the Antarctic by Argentina, Chile and the British Empire's Falkland Islands Dependencies are portrayed on these three postage stamps issued last week. The claims of the three nations all overlap one another. To add to the confusion, the U.S. does not recognize the land stakes. The U.S. Board of Geographical Names calls the disputed area "Palmer Peninsula," in honor of Capt. Nathaniel B. Palmer, who explored the mainland south of Deception Island in 1820.

Streetcars With Desires

Thus endeth the San Francisco cable cars. The famous little cars, which climbed up and plunged down the steep San Francisco hills, are going in many directions to spend their declining years. These two are crossing the Golden Gate Bridge, on their way to a place near San Rafael, where Thomas Gosland Jr. intends to make a summer home out of them. Others are going to museums.

Sheer Comfort

Screen actress Dora Drake is all set for a restful night in this sheer sleeping suit, modeled after the ones in style in 1919. Dora wears it in a scene in the movie, "So This Is New York."

Friendly Smile—For a Change

A friendly smile seems out of place in Palestine. But no animosity shows on the face of this Jewish girl in Jerusalem, chatting with the British soldier. The tear gas riot gun he is cleaning was used the previous night to rout Jewish Haganah members from Jerusalem's No-Man's-Land. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent David S. Boyer.)

than second in a two-man race. He pointed to his strength in solid Republican districts as proof that he didn't either have New Deal help, so there.

But the joy of the contestants can hardly be compared to the joy of the supporters of the candidates, actual and potential, who sat on the sidelines. Governor Dewey's cohorts were almost as happy as he had walked off with all 53 Ohio delegates himself.

They pointed out that Mr. Stassen had made Mr. Taft good and angry by coming into his block and trying to pick a fight. This meant that the two of them wouldn't make a deal to gang up on Mr. Dewey in Philadelphia.

And since Mr. Stassen had said that he'd run in second place with any GOP winner except the New York governor, Mr. Dewey and his supporters were good and mad at Mr. Stassen, too. This indicated that no Dewey delegates were going to get off the Dewey bandwagon, no matter how strong the gentlemen from Ohio and Minnesota might look.

As for the reluctant Senator Vandenberg's drum-beaters—well, they figured their man as good as in after the Ohio primary. They pointed out that Mr. Stassen's invasion of Vandenberg territory was a breach of political etiquette that angered the whole Republican organization. Mr. Stassen has angered too many people to make it, said the Vandenberg camp. Messrs. Dewey and Taft will wind up trading blows, unnoticed in a corner, while the convention goes on to nominate the senior senator from Michigan.

Moral, if any: Presidential candidates are not chosen by popularity polls.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, May 24 —(AP)—Grains slipped at the opening today and never were able to recover completely the lost ground. Initial selling was based on weather developments, which included the week-end rains in the south-west wheat belt and clear skies in the mid-west.

There was some buying in wheat on anticipation of foreign flour business, but it caused only a slight rally.

Good corn planting weather was received again today in the mid-west.

Wheat closed 3-4 to 1 cent lower, July 22.33 3-4-22.34, corn was 5-8 1-2 lower, July 22.12 7-8-22.13 1-8, oats were 7-8 lower to 5-8 higher, July 80 7-8-81, and soybeans were 2 to 4 cents lower, July $3.99-$3.97.

Cash wheat followed the action of the futures market today. Receipts were 10 cars. Corn prices were off 2 to 3 cents with receipts of 286 cars.

The oats market was off 1 to 2 cents. Receipts were 37 cars.

Corn bookings are 2,000 bushels with sales of 11,000.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, May 24 —(AP)—Cotton futures broke sharply today on ECA announcement over the week-end asking foreign countries to cease buying of American cotton until the financial plan of the foreign aid program has been completed. Traders feared that this meant further delay in stimulating the lagging export movement of cotton and sold futures heavily, particularly in the nearby July delivery.

July at one time showed a loss of $5.65 a bale at a price of $6.40 cents above the market. It later recovered on replacement commission house buying and short covering.

Futures closed 30 cents to $3.15 a bale lower than the previous close.

OVER-RIPE THOUGH GREEN

If left on the tree after once becoming ripe, or orange-colored, the Valencia orange often turns back to its original green color, thus, some green oranges are average.

Automotive Hint

Headlight reflectors should be cleaned with dry jeweler's rouge; and if tarnished, with a little alcohol. The rouge should be applied very lightly with a chamois.

FIRST APPLES

The first cultivated apple orchards of the New World were in Nova Scotia. Although various wild crab-apples had been used by the Indians, the first domestic plantings came from stock brought to Acadia from Normandy, about 1600.

Sprayed by Plans

Spraying of California fruit orchards often is done by means of airplanes. While flying at low altitudes, they lay down a barrage of gas, which exterminates the insects.

Perchin' Pretty

Beauty Aids

Industrial chemists are responsible for many of the present "aids" to beauty, including artificial silk, synthetic leather shoes, face powder, artificial teeth, and coloring matter for lipsticks and dress materials.

Insect Hunters

Scientists hunt insects with bows and arrows. Feathers on the arrows are covered with glue, which ensnares the insect. The arrows are shot through swarms of high-flying insects so small that they scarcely can be seen.

Greenwood Continues Fast Pace

By The Associated Press

Greenwood's fast-moving Dodgers are traveling down victory trail at a speedy clip.

The Cotton States league-leaders posted their 25th win against eight losses yesterday by turning back El Dorado, 9-6, in a thriller on the oldtown grounds.

Second-place Hot Springs defeated Helena's Seaporters, 5-4, in a slugfest match at Hot Springs, while Natchez beat the Greenville Bucks, in a close 6-5 contest at Natchez. Clarksdale pushed Pine Bluff deeper into the cellar by trimming the Cardinals, 10-10, on the latter's field.

Greenwood led El Dorado, 9-4, going into the last of the ninth, when the Oilers staged a rally. Two runs denied the plate before the Dodgers' relief pitcher, Norbert Habi, could put out the fire — and he left the bases full in doing it.

In beating Greenville, the Natchez Indians were hard-pressed to stave off several late Buck rallies. Jim Gilbert and Joe Rullo clouted successive homers in the second, good for four Natchez runs. Greenville tied hard to overcome the lead, but was subdued one run short of tying the score.

Although he lost effectiveness in the eighth when Helena nicked him for three runs, Ray Rapacki went the distance for Hot Springs, giving the Oilers a 10-9 victory over the 12 hits. The Oilers' outburst got 13 base knocks off three Helena pitchers. The win gave Hot Springs a clean sweep of the three-game series.

Pine Bluff dropped its third straight game to seventh-place Clarksdale after taking a commanding 7-0 first inning lead. The Mississippians went on to collect 10 hits off three Pine Bluff hurlers, including the loser — Ralph Gregory.

Here and There in Arkansas

Sherrill, May 24 —(AP)—Wildcat oil well drilling operations will begin two miles west of here tomorrow. The test is being sunk by F. H. Carpenter, Sour Lake, Texas, independent operator. His contract with the Taylor Kirby Drilling Co., Kilgore, Tex., calls for a 3,500 foot hole.

The test will be known as the A. C. McGregor well No. 1.

Little Rock, May 24 —(AP)—Fred M. LeRoy, 58, traffic bureau chief for the Associated Press here since 1929, died yesterday after an illness of several months.

A native of Willington, S. C., and a veteran AP employee, LeRoy came here from Memphis in 1929.

His widow, two daughters, his mother, a brother and two sisters survive.

The funeral has been set tentatively for Wednesday.

DeQueen, May 24 —(AP)—Dellor McKinley, 46, was shot fatally today at his farm home seven miles west of here.

State Patrolman Joe Booker said officers were seeking Edward Thornton, 43, Broken Bow, Okla., for the shooting.

Booker quoted Mrs. Martha McKinley, 78, the dead man's mother, as saying:

Thornton, a timber worker started boarding at the McKinley home about six weeks ago. Shortly after breakfast today, Thornton and her son engaged in an argument. Thornton went to the home of a neighbor, obtained a shotgun and returned. He fired at McKinley as the latter was standing in the doorway.

State Police Sgt. Max Tackett, Texarkana, brought bloodhounds here. The dogs picked up a trail and led officers into the mountains toward the Oklahoma line.

Accessories of Sewing Make Nice Gifts

Sewing accessories make nice gifts for club or circle parties, suggests Lorraine Blackwood, home demonstration agent for Hempstead county.

Individual women could make a number of sewing boxes. A cigar box—or any box with a hinged lid—is ideal for this use. It should be covered with satin, glazed chintz or plastic material. The inside walls may be lined with pockets for thimbles, tape measures, tailor's chalks, or other articles usually kept in a sewing basket.

Here are some other gift suggestions from the home demonstration agent.

(1) A cloth tape measure numbered on both sides and from opposite ends.

(2) A package of No. 10 crewel (embroidery) needles for doing fine hemming.

(3) A package of milliner's needles (size 6) for basting.

(4) A wrist pincushion made from a piece of cloth 4 1/2 inches square, which is stuffed with wool and has an elastic band to fit the wrist.

(5) Different colored tailor's chalk for marking lines on cloth.

(6) A basting brick made by covering a brick with quilted padding and a durable cover.

(7) A short ruler that is clearly marked and short enough to fit into the sewing box.

(8) A 1500-yard spool of low-twist basting cotton thread in black or white.

(9) A box of No. 4 dressmaker pins.

(10) A very short apron with pockets to hold such things as thimbles, thread, scissors, and the other small things used while sewing.

Some of these gifts can be made at home. Others may be found in a variety store, department store, sewing machine shop or mail-order house.

Truman Ready to Name New Agri Secretary

Washington, May 24 — (P) — President Truman may appoint a Secretary of Agriculture today or tomorrow, persons high in administration circles said today.

The cabinet post has been vacant since Clinton R. Anderson resigned May 10 to run for the Senate in New Mexico.

Hammocks were discovered in America by Columbus. The American Indians called them "hammocks."

Why should the city editor of the HT, which purports to be a Republican paper, lend the prestige of his office to a commercial show run by this pioneer promoter of the rape of Poland, this thief and renegade of the newspaper business? When I say renegade of the newspaper business I refer you to an exultant story by Gailmor's friend, one Arnold Blom's, third called PM, in 1944. Blom said that when he and Gailmor worked on the daily desk of the New York Herald Tribune, editing a five-minute hourly news summary, Gailmor got in his ideological policy and sabotaged the editorial policy of the paper.

Nashville Vols Ease Barons Out of First

The hardhitting Nashville Vols eased Birmingham out of the top spot in the Southern Association yesterday by taking both ends of a double-header from Memphis, 8-0 and 5-3.

Mobile climbed back into third place by beating New Orleans 5 to 1. Birmingham and Atlanta split a twin bill, the Crackers winning the first 11-1 and the Braves taking the second 11-2. Chattanooga defeated Little Rock 8 to 7 in the first game. Rain forced postponement of the nightcap.

Chattanooga got to Little Rock Pitcher Alvin Heuser for four runs in the first inning and was never headed.

Pat Toomes shut out the cellar-dwellers with only three hits until the sixth, when he allowed the Travelers five hits and four runs. He was relieved but received credit for the triumph.

Chattanooga's Outfielder Larry Drake ran his hitting string to 30 consecutive games.

Today's games Atlanta at Birmingham, Chattanooga at Little Rock, Nashville at Memphis, New Orleans at Mobile.

The managerial "hot seat" was sizzling today under Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Joe McCarthy of the Boston Red Sox.

Durocher's Dodgers struck rock bottom yesterday. They not only lost their eighth straight when they bowled to Cincinnati's Reds 6-5, but sank into the National League's cellar.

McCarthy's Red Sox were only a shade better off. A stunning double defeat dealt them by the tail, and Chicago White Sox dropped them into seventh place, only four lengths out of the American League's basement.

Durocher, after a year's absence at the special request of Commissioner A. B. Chandler, this spring took over a team which had won 1947. He was figured to finish no worse than second.

Even more was expected from McCarthy, who had come out of retirement to direct the Red Sox. A Tom Yawkey spending bee by Owner established stars as Vern Stephens, Stan Spence, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder to Boston, caused the experts to make the Red Sox preseason favorites.

Joe Hatten, Brooklyn couldn't hold onto a 5-0 lead yesterday as the Cincinnati Reds stormed from behind to kayo the California defuncts, and went on to hang the eighth inning bowled by Grady Hatton broke up a 5-5 tie. The win moved the Reds out of the cellar, eight percentage points in front of Brooklyn.

Demaret Gets Favorite Nod in PGA Play

St. Louis, May 24 — (AP) — Jimmy Demaret, Ben Hogan and Claude Harmon took on Mike Turnesa today over the 36-hole round in the semi-finals of the PGA tournament.

Regardless of what kind of golf Turnesa, of White Plains, N. Y., could throw at Harmon, it couldn't be any rougher than Claude's 42-hole marathon with Sammy Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., yesterday.

The recent Masters champion won the duel — second longest in PGA tournament history — with a 25-foot putt on the 42nd hole of the New Hope Hills Country Club course.

Turnesa, one of seven golfing brothers, continued as a surprise of the tournament in beating big Johnny Bulla, of Phoenix, Ariz., 6 and 5, with a four under par performance.

Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., and Hogan of Hershey, Pa., both native Texans, came through the quarter-finals with brilliant performances.

Demaret showed the greatest game of the meet in beating George Fazio, of Conahock, Pa., 4 and 4, going the 32 holes in 15 strokes under par and with only two hits conceded.

Hogan, the 1946 PGA champion, built up a 5-hole lead over Melvin (Chick) Harbert, Northville, Mich., in the first eighteen and stayed off a late enemy rally in the afternoon to win 2 and 1.

Here are some facts: Gailmor is a leading member of Henry Wallace's campaign party, raising the money at the meetings Wallace is still the candidate. The HT tells us that Gailmor is campaigning with Wallace but doesn't give us a "truthful" story about him. He's lying about his dirty record "Bill" lied off the riot in New York the other night in which the Communists were causing disorder against the anti-Communist movie "The Iron Curtain". The Herald Tribune ignored Gailmor's incitation to riot and was scooped on the riot itself. He ignored Wallace's responsibility for the riot, inasmuch as the incitation was given on the microphone at Wallace's meeting. Fredrick Vanderbilt Field was one of the organizers of the campaign of the Communists against anti-Communist films. F. Field is the patron and an old hand pal of Joe Barnes. Barnes recently quit his job as foreign editor and boss ideologue of the Herald Tribune and went over to edit Marsa's Field's thing.

Now if Joe Herzberg believes what he said about the atomic peep of pieces in print and the importance of truth, don't you think a little reporting is in order about the stories that appear and don't appear in the New York Herald Tribune?

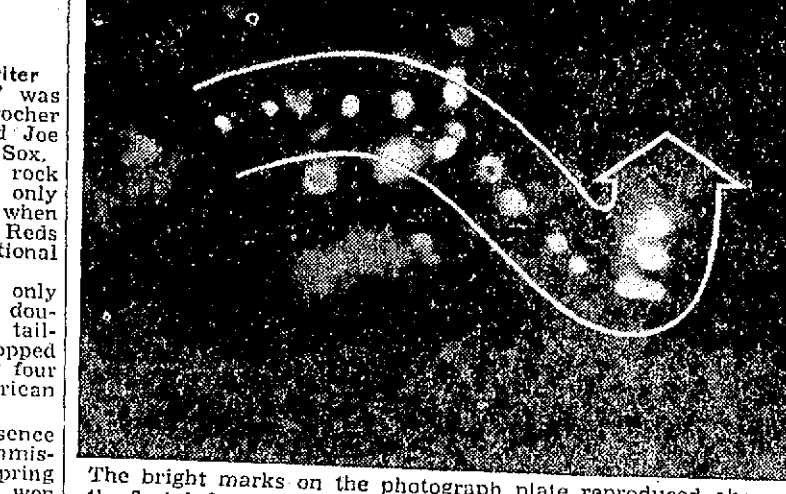

And who says any and no and why?

The bright marks on the photograph plate reproduced above are the first definite tracks of an electron ever recorded. The electrons, which make up atoms, sped through a special photographic emulsion, striking grains of silver and thus making a traceable path. SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

St. Louis, May 24 — (AP) — While Claude Harmon was eating lunch yesterday a reporter asked him what the idea of these one-sided matches "Why don't you give us some close, exciting ones?" At that time Claude had just fired a 64 at Sammy Snead and was five up, halfway through their 36-hole quarter-final match in the PGA tournament.

Harmon just grinned and replied "I had enough close ones against Jim Fergus. That was the most exciting finish I ever saw when he nearly caught me. I'm perfectly happy to have it this way."

Claude wasn't being unduly pessimistic, either, when he insisted Snead shouldn't be under-estimated. It was Sammy who got the 64 in the afternoon and they found themselves playing six extra holes before Harmon finally won.

The same scribe suggested "Mike Turnesa was a push-over for you tomorrow." Claude turned to "Pushover" Sarazen and remarked "I'm going to stick around and see how the boys play here. I don't know nothing." George Getchell, the Oklahoma golfer who was knocked out early, is a nephew of John Getchell, the famous fifth golfe of the refereed. Record Co. Officer Killed by Gunman

By ROBERT L. LOUGHAN

Chicago, May 24 — (UP) — A recording company official was shot to death early today by gunmen who chased him down a darkened street until he fell of exhaustion.

Police said the killing was executed with such perfect gangland precision they feared it might mark the outbreak of a "joke box" in the Chicago underworld.

Sneeze) Friedman was Leo (Little) Sneeze) Friedman, who was associated with the mercury recording company and ran a restaurant in the loop.

He was shot to death by two or three gunmen arriving at an inconspicuous old model car. When the first shots missed, the gunmen promptly let Friedman run until he tripped and fell over a fence from exhaustion. Then one of the gunmen stepped from the car and pumped three slugs into the side of his head.

Friedman's widow, Carol, 26, told police that she and her husband had just left their car in a parking lot across the street from their west side hotel on Jackson boulevard when the men drove up and began shooting.

She said she heard two flurries of shots as she ran into the hotel lobby and screamed to the night clerk to call police.

Witnesses on the street said that at the first burst of shots, Friedman began running down a side street. The gunmen calmly continued firing, driving slowly after him, until he tripped over the fence.

Then they delivered the coup de grace.

Witnesses were not certain whether there were two or three gunmen in the car. They said the firing was so rapid it sounded like machine guns. Police believed the men used revolvers, however, as no ejected shells were found at the scene.

"This was a perfect gang type murder," Police Capt. Harry Pennington said. "The killers were men who knew their business."

"Competition has been keen in the juke box trade and some of the mobs have muscled in to the business. It looks now as though they might be squabbling over territories."

Police said Friedman once was a suspect in the robbery on Jan. 2, 1947, of a jewelry salesman, Robert Wilkins. A car used in the robbery was traced to the home of Friedman's mother, Mrs. Carl Friedman.

Detectives said that in 1936 Friedman was sentenced to 10 years in a federal penitentiary for robbing a bank at St. Charles, Ill. While there, they said, he met Edward P. Jones, a multi-millionaire Negro king of Chicago's policy racket who was serving time for income tax evasion.

Authorities were checking whether there was any possible gambling connection to the slaying.

In Friedman's pockets police found eight traffic tickets given him recently for double parking in the loop and a bill for $900 worth of groceries to his restaurant.

A Chicago newspaper recently published an expose of the juke box racket and claimed that the "syndicate" had prevented Sen. Homer Capehart, R., Ind., from distributing juke boxes in his firm in the Chicago area. Capehart denied the story.

Water, Food Costly in Jerusalem

(Editor's note: Battle-torn Jerusalem is a city of violent contrasts, where water is sold and the rationing of food depends mostly on what is available. Life in the Jewish colony there is sketched in the following delayed dispatch from a United Press correspondent.)

By LEO TURNER

Jerusalem, May 21. —(UP)—You can buy two gallons of water for four cents in the Jewish community of Jerusalem tonight.

You can, that is, if you queue up the corner with tubs and buckets and prove to the satisfaction of the man in charge of the mobile tank from which water is being distributed that you are not overshooting your quota of two gallons per person in your family.

If your taste and purse are richer, you can get domestic brandy for $2.64 a quart. The cheap table wine that is one of the staples here normally is gone.

The food you get in the beleaguered Jewish quarter, blockaded by the Arab forces on all sides, depends on what is available. Yesterday the food ration in the Jewish sections was set at 900 calories per person per day, but another convoy can break through from Tel Aviv.

And that bare subsistence ration is a mere technicality. They can't pass it out if they haven't got it. The only unrationed nourishment is hard candy, cakes and liquor. At best each adult is limited to half a pound of bread a day. The bakeries run electrically, and when power is off they stop.

Maria, a small blond tonight when electricity, which flickers on and off haphazardly, came on in more sections of the city than usual.

In the Eden hotel today I waited 45 minutes for a sandwich of cheese on dry bread. The waiter said he had to persuade the chef to let him have the bread.

'Tiny Tim' Punches Holes in Two-Inch Plate

"Tiny Tim," a rocket with 125 pounds of TNT in its warhead, rests on its 1500-foot launching rail, before being tested. The flying missile is undergoing research at the Navy's Michelson Laboratory at the Naval Ordnance Test Station, Inyokern, Calif. The rail does not vary one-sixteenth of an inch in its entire length. At right is a sheet of two-inch plate, through which "Tiny Tim" punched holes.

Makes a Pig of Himself on Beer

Show a bottle of beer to Jack, a 200-pound Russian wild boar, and he pleadingly grunts until you uncap it and pour the contents down his gullet. Jack belongs to Deputy U. S. Marshal Hugh Watson, of Sweetwater, Tenn., who captured him while raiding a still in the nearby mountains three years ago. He brought the baby pig to his farm and raised it on milk from a bottle until it could forage for itself. Since his first taste of beer Jack has demanded his daily ration of the stuff. Above, Marshal Watson's brother Henry, gives him one of the five or six bottles he drinks every day.

France Asks Military Aid From U. S.

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

London, May 24 —(AP)—France is reported to be demanding that the United States guarantee military aid to the Western European Alliance as a price for approving an American plan to rebuild Germany's industry.

Diplomatic officials said today the French demand was blocked an accord among the Western Powers on Germany's economic and political future. American officials are described as unwilling to commit themselves on a military pact.

Officials close to the conference report the French delegation, with the support of Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, has approved in principle a plan to give the western Germans a government of their own with a large measure of economic independence.

But they have raised simultaneously a demand the United States commit itself to American support if any of the Western European Alliance countries is attacked.

The Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—have lined up with the French, insisting upon iron-clad guarantees that Germany's industrial might will be kept from becoming useful for war.

From responsible American sources came these reports:

1. The United States has persuaded the French that Germany's industrial powers must be used in the European Recovery Program.

2. The French have agreed to a program under which the western Germans will be allowed to continue industries—such as chemicals—which ordinarily were listed by the Allies for elimination.

3. The Germans will be allowed to build up a police force of its own—chiefly for customs' work and border patrol.

4. Free movement of people within the United States, British and French zones of occupation is agreed upon.

5. Adoption of a new currency, planned to be the American dollar, for all three zones also is agreed.

Today Biggest News Story Says AP Head

New York, May 24 —(AP)—Alan J. Gould, Associated Press executive editor, said yesterday that perhaps the biggest news story in 100 years "is what is taking place in the world today."

He made the statement on a special NBC broadcast dramatizing the 10 biggest news stories of the past century as selected by AP editors. The program was in observance of the AP's centenary.

The 10 stories picked for dramatization were the gold rush and America's expansion westward, the War Between the States, the Franco-Prussian war and establishment of the German empire, the Spanish-American war, Marconi opens a century of science, World War I, the abdication of Edward VII, World War II, Franklin D. Roosevelt and his era, and atomic energy.

"The eleventh story — perhaps the biggest of them all," said Gould, "is what is taking place in the world today."

"It is the job of the Associated Press to cover this story for the more than 3,000 newspapers and radio stations who make up our cooperative, non-profit membership."

"But in the final analysis, we're covering this story for you, the public. Because what happens in the world today may affect your life tomorrow."

To do this job, the Associated Press today has thousands of employees — trained, skilled men and women — in all parts of the world where there is freedom of access to news.

"These men and women are proud of the 100 years of tradition of which they are a part. They intend to keep this tradition alive, and they are determined to keep it shining bright. Together, all of us who represent the AP go forward under one standard."

"In this land of fought-for freedom, the Associated Press knows but one master — truth in the news."

NBC commentators who presented the stories in drama and narration were W. W. Chaplin, Robert Trout, John Cameron Swayze, John MacVane, and Robert McCormick.

One variation from the reported trend of a strong majority vote for a strike took place yesterday.

The Big Buick local 599 of Flint, Mich., heart of GM's huge factory system, voted against a strike, rejecting a plea from Emil Mazzy, the International UAW's secretary-treasurer and acting president.

Local 599 is the UAW's largest in GM, claiming 15,000 members. It has been influential in union policies.

Court Asked to Set Aside Spa Conviction

Little Rock, May 24 —(AP)—Attorneys for former Hot Springs City Attorney Jay Rowland today asked the supreme court to set aside his Garland Circuit Court conviction on a charge of bribery.

Rowland, first member of the political regime of former Hot Springs Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin to be tried on indictments returned after McLaughlin was deposed, was sentenced to one year imprisonment and fined $750.

He was convicted at the second trial of a charge of accepting $50 a month from the Hot Springs horsecar handbook operators. His first trial resulted in a hung jury.

The supreme court appeal was argued orally before the court today and taken under submission for possible decision next Monday.

The court also took under submission today the case of U. D. Lambert, DeQuam escape artist, who was sentenced by a Sevier Circuit Court jury to five years imprisonment on a charge of grand larceny.

While awaiting trial Lambert twice "escaped" from the Sevier county jail. The first time was short lived when he encountered a state policeman just outside the jail. The second time Lambert was aided as an escape for several days before he was found hiding in the jail building.

The supreme court advanced and set for submission June 14 a test case to determine whether a county can purchase a county hospital site at some location outside the county seat.
